Bri Stormer is Manager of Publications and Special Projects at the American Professional Society on the Abuse of Children (APSAC), where she oversees the production of the peer-reviewed journal Child Maltreatment, the peer-reviewed newsletter the APSAC Advisor, the practice-focused newsblast the APSAC Alert, APSAC Practice Guidelines, and APSAC’s Research to Practice Briefs. In addition, she serves as liaison to APSAC’s state chapters and manages APSAC’s student and young professionals division, known as YAPSAC. Bri received her MSW from the University of Southern California and her Bachelor’s in Psychology and Theater from Case Western Reserve University.