

Dr. Yanfeng Xu is an Assistant Professor at the University of South Carolina College of Social Work. Her research focuses on the well-being of children and families in kinship care and non-kin foster care. Currently, she is Principal Investigator for two projects that examine (1) relationships between material hardship, parenting practice, and the well-being of children and caregivers; and (2) White-Black disparities in grandparent-headed kinship families.