

Amy Pumo, LCSW, Director of Clinical Services at The New York Society for The Prevention of Cruelty to Children (The NYSPCC), provides oversight for all the organization's clinical programs. Prior to joining The NYSPCC, Ms. Pumo served for over 13 years as the founding Program Director for the Bronx Child Trauma Program, a project of the Center for Court Innovation. The program, located in the Bronx District Attorney's Office, provides trauma-focused support services to youth exposed to violent crimes.

Ms. Pumo has 25 years of experience providing social services to vulnerable populations and 20 years of experience supervising staff and social work students. She received her B.A. in Psychology from Villanova University and her Master of Science in Social Work, from Columbia University.